THE NEED FOR TALENT

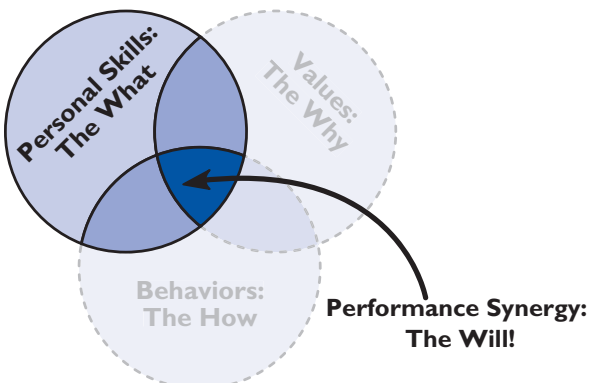

Today, business success is measured in TALENT—the RIGHT talent for the job! The lack of job performance and employee turnover result in missed business opportunities and increased costs. It makes business sense that managers are seeking better ways to accurately assess, develop and retain top talent. Your search is over! We have a proven assessment that will assist you in these endeavors—the TTI Personal Talent Skills Inventory!

ABOUT THE PERSONAL TALENT SKILLS INVENTORY

The Personal Talent Skills Inventory (PTSI) is unique in its ability to assess an individual's cognitive structure, focusing on three dimensions of thought used in the process of thinking:

- Systematic: the dimension of ideas, thinking and structure. Systems judgment and self direction are measured.
- Extrinsic: the dimension of things, doing and events. Practical thinking and role awareness are measured.
- Intrinsic: the dimension of people, feelings and self awareness. Empathetic outlook and sense of self are measured.

Along with the three dimensions of thought, the PTSI has a direct relationship with mathematics, which is unlike other instruments of its kind. This is the secret behind its ability to measure the core dimensions of how we think. The result is an accurate ranking of PERSONAL TALENT SKILLS describing individual potential for workplace performance.

The overall intent, format and output of the PTSI are specifically tailored to meet the needs of managers and executives. When combined with an assessment of BEHAVIORAL TRAITS and VALUES, the PTSI will give you the third component to assess an individual in a way that provides a complete picture of individual talent.

VALIDATION

The PTSI has been validated in over 28 individual validation studies, conducted over 20 years by more than 19 separate examiners. It meets the standards of the US Federal Government Equal Employment Opportunity Commission (EEOC). Ongoing research continues to underscore the value of this unique business tool.
